November 2019

Volume 32—Issue 11 (published 10/25/19)

Message from Pastor Jim: Thanksgiving

In 1621, the Plymouth colonists and Wampanoag Indians shared an autumn harvest feast that is acknowledged today as one of the first Thanksgiving celebrations in the colonies. For more than two centuries, days of thanksgiving were celebrated by individual colonies and states. It wasn't until 1863, in the midst of the Civil War, that President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed a national Thanksgiving Day to be held each November. You can read more about the story behind one of the earliest "thanksgiving" celebrations at the link below.<sup>1</sup>

For many today, Thanksgiving celebrations focus around food and family, and not surprisingly, football and the Macy's Parade. Yet this holiday provides a wonderful opportunity to teach and impress upon our children, while reminding ourselves, the spiritual practice of gratitude (Deuteronomy 6:4-9).

Here are some creative and practical ways to have fun while also practicing gratitude together as a family.

Start a Family "Thanksgiving Journal"

This is something new for me that I will bring to my family this year. Purchase a nice, blank journal and simply pass it around the table during dessert, or leave it in a central spot, for family members and guests to write down at least one thing for which they are thankful. Parents can act as secretary for those who are too young to write, inviting the child to make a mark or scribble so they have the joy of participating. Next year, read aloud the entries prior to writing more.

Volunteer as a Family

There are many opportunities to volunteer together – such as ring the bell for the Salvation Army kettle. One of our LUMC family brings their musical instruments with them! Check the Weekly Info, our Facebook page, or our website for other opportunities, now and throughout the year.

Make room at your table

Not everyone has someone to share Thanksgiving dinner with: co-workers who live far from home; a member of our church who lives alone; a neighbor. Extend the invitation with sensitivity and genuine hospitality. If you are away for Thanksgiving, consider inviting someone living alone over for a meal before or after the holiday.

Go for a family walk, or run

Take a walk together as a family, especially if this is not your normal routine. Or, if there is a local benefit run, consider running with at least one other family member.

Play table games

Not everyone is into football. Play a table game or put together a puzzle. One suggestion is to have everyone write

November Worship Theme: “This Is Us”

The television series, “This is Us,” in it’s 4th season on NBC, “is a beautiful tale about life. The story revolves around a few characters that seem to be unrelated. However they have more in common than you realize. What sets this show apart isn't the ending, but the journey you take in-between.” – H. Karali, <https://www.imdb.com/title/tt5555260> .

In Genesis we read about a family in whom, and through whom God worked. Like the plot of “This is Us” the story of Abraham’s and Sarah’s family depicts life as messy, complicated, and at times ambiguous. It is a journey from the present to the promise God has given. The scriptures lay bare the family’s failures and their successes. Through it all, God is present, God is at work, and despite their flawed humanity, God manages to work in them and through them. Like the flashbacks in “This is Us”, this biblical family functions as a flashback for the people of Israel throughout their history, helping to explain who and why they are. We, as followers of Jesus, are their legacy of faith, their heritage of faithfulness, passed down from one generation to the next. We are here because of them and all who have come before us.

What heritage and legacy will we leave for those who follow us? How will we be remembered – our failures, our successes, our stories of disappointment and faith, our examples of leading and serving?

Wesley Hall Display

During our sermon series, This Is Us, we are focusing on our Biblical ancestors and how their legacy lives on today through us, the people of God. In the display case in Wesley Hall we have a collection of documents, pictures, and items that reflect the ancestors, heritage, and history of our members.

The Worship team hopes this display will be another lens through which you can think about how we all are descendants of our ancestors and how our heritage, together, speaks to our present and future as God’s people.

A Gathering of Angels, November 3rd, All Saints Sunday

The United Methodist Women celebrate All Saints Day with “A Gathering of Angels” in Wesley Hall. You are invited to visit the angel tree and choose a collectable angel as a personal keepsake or to give as a gift. You may also select a hand cut paper angel to honor or memorialize a loved one. The tribute angels will bear their name and be placed on the angel tree in Wesley Hall for all to celebrate. These angels are available for a free will donation to support the Georgia W. Bange Scholarship Fund.

Background

The Georgia W. Bange Scholarship Fund was established by The Leesburg United Methodist Women to support education goals within our church community. The fund has awarded over $19,000 in college scholarships since 2010. Georgia Bange (1930-2009), was a LUMW member, a dedicated teacher, an astute business woman, a devoted public servant, and a compassionate counselor to so many in our community. She collected angels for many years and asked her friends and visitors to choose an angel from her collection to enjoy as a keepsake. To honor Georgia, the UMW asks that you, too, select an angel and remember someone special in your life.

We look forward to seeing you at the Gathering of Angels fundraiser this year!

Thank you for your loving and continued support,
The Georgia W. Bange Scholarship Committee

Forever Young

“Declutter Your Life: Practical Ways to Find Outer Order and Inner Calm”

Sunday, Nov. 17 at 12:15 pm in the Aldersgate building.

We will be sharing a program from Lifetree Café* with practical tips for decluttering your life. The program features a filmed interview with Gretchen Rubin, author of the New York Times #1 best-selling book The Happiness Project.

“As I’ve studied happiness, I’ve been surprised about how much outer order contributes to inner calm,” says Rubin. “Clutter-clearing seems insignificant, but it energizes people. By getting control of their stuff, people feel they have more control of larger things.”

Participants will get practical steps for decluttering their homes and their schedules and living calmer, happier lives.

Open to all; bring a friend!

Advent—Stories of Courageous Hope

Our Advent Planning is in full swing and we are looking for individuals who would like to share their stories as part of our worship.

. Our theme for Advent is "Courageous Hope." We are looking for personal stories of a time when you had hope in the face of disappointment, doubt, or fear. Or perhaps a story of daring to dream big, step out in faith, or share the hope you have with others. Sharing your story does not mean you have to stand up and speak. We can be planning to publish these stories for sharing and reflection throughout the weeks of Advent.

If you have a story of Courageous Hope to share, please contact Rebekah - worship@leesburgumc.org

Rev Heather Wray, Director of Connect

Advent Devotional—Writers Needed

Our Advent theme this year is "Courageous Hope" as we explore aspects of hope and courage: courage to dream/dare, courage to overcome doubt, courage to overcome disappointment, and courage to believe.

We are preparing our own LUMC devotional guide in which we invite you to share your passion for writing! If interested, please contact Angela Becek or Pastor Jim.

11:00 am Royal Rebels—Blue Room (upstairs education building); Facilitator: Sharon Reith

We meet from 11-12 after the 9:45 Service in the Blue Room. We discuss the Sermon (or anything else of interest!) All are welcome to join or just drop in.

Facilitator: Sharon Reith

We are beginning the study "Hosea: Unfailing Love Changes Everything" on Thursday, October 31st from 9:30-11:30 in Wesley Hall; books are $14.

Hosea, an old-testament prophet, preached his own life message using his marriage as the sermon illustration. Be amazed by the love of Hosea for his wayward spouse—and more amazed by the unfailing love of God for His wayward people and for all people. Hosea showers us with hope: hints and portents pointing to the coming of the promised Messiah.

We have several opportunities to serve through our children's and youth ministries. We have leaders for our groups and classes, and need adult assistants each week: Sunday mornings and Sunday evenings.

There is no prep work, just come with an open heart and ready to serve by being a loving presence, helping with activities and assisting with clean-up.

Please plan to arrive 10 minutes before start time and stay until all children/youth picked up; this helps to keep us in compliance with our child protection policy. You will be contacted prior to your selected date with policy required information.

something they're thankful for; fold and place in a jar or bowl; and take turns reading one and letting everyone try to figure out whose it is. For the competitive ones, you can even devise a scoring system.

The point is, on this holy-day, whose sole purpose is to reflect on all we've been given, let's choose to be more intentional in expressing our gratitude and teaching our children (and grandchildren) to do so. In

Psalm 50, verse 23, we read: "Those who bring thanksgiving as their sacrifice honor me; to those who go the right way I will show the salvation of God."

Happy Thanksgiving!

Great Beginnings Preschool

Happy Fall LUMC friends! October was a busy month at Great Beginnings. We enjoyed a visit with our Favorite Firemen from Station 20, smiled for picture day, and had gorgeous weather for our 4th Annual Recess Run! It was so wonderful to see our GBP Sunbeams, church families, and community members at the race. Thank you for your continued support.

In November, we're excited to concentrate on the following themes: Community helpers, transportation, manners/thankfulness, and color matching/sorting. Our color of the month is brown and our shape is square.

In music, our composer of the month is John Philips Sousa. We'll look at tempo and dynamics using his song "The Stars and Stripes Forever" and introduce crescendo with his "Sempre Fidelis."

In Chapel, we'll follow Joshua and Samuel's journeys. Our November bible verse is found in 1 Chronicles 29:13, "We thank you, our God, and praise your glorious name". GBP's Thanksgiving Feast and Special Chapel are taking place on November 25th and 26th.

Great Beginnings' 5th Annual Vendor Fair is November 13th (6:00-8:30pm) and November 14th (9am-12:30pm) in Asbury Hall. Vendor applications and more information can be found on our website: greatbeginningsleesburg.com. During our fair, local small businesses all gather in one location for your shopping pleasure. Tackle that holiday to-do list and maybe find something special for yourself!

We wish you all a very Happy Thanksgiving!

Our Way Forward Together: Preparing for General Conference, 2020

SAVE THE DATES: January 26, February 9, May 31

Many are aware that the United Methodist General Conference meets next May, 2020, and will once again take up the issues of Lesbian and Gay sexuality and inclusion, along with how the United Methodist Church will move forward. United Methodists worldwide hold differing opinions on the issues of gay/heterosexual marriage, ordination, and what local churches/clergy can and cannot do with respect to celebrating gay marriage. No one can predict what the outcome will be of these deliberations. For those who are not aware, General Conference that meets every four years, is the official voice of United Methodism, establishing mission, priorities, processes, and parameters of our ministry together worldwide.

In order to prepare for what may happen at General Conference, we will be continuing our series of meetings over the past 15 months with a town hall conversation with two Virginia Conference clergy who are or have been delegates to General Conference; followed by a time for theological reflection and discussion. Our two presenters for the town hall each represent a different perspective on the issues, and we have asked them to share 1) what they anticipate and expect, leading up to the Conference, 2) what we can do to prepare leading up to and following the Conference, and 3) how we can effectively pray.

Last, we'll have a town hall to follow-up General Conference, on Sunday, May 31. We have not confirmed yet, but hope to get our two presenters in January to come back at that time.

Our primary focus through all of these discussions is and will remain, how we can effectively and genuinely “make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world”. The delightful paradox of disciple making is that in the process we, too, undergo transformation as the wind of the Holy Spirit continues to stir – and sometimes stir up.

- January 26: Town Hall: Preparing for General Conference, 3:00-4:30PM
- February 9: Reflection and Discussion on our Beliefs – Theological, Biblical, Cultural... 3:00-4:30PM
- May 31: Town Hall: Results of General Conference, TBD

NLI Update:

6 ways to increase the impact of God's higher calling for LUMC

As we breakthrough our first anniversary of celebrating achievements related to our Next Level Innovations initiative, here are several ways we can ALL help keep the momentum going.

Pray. Pray that God will continue to work through LUMC to protect our schools, support people in need of food and housing, be a good neighbor, and help transform lives for Christ, one at a time.

Invite a friend. Share with your friends, coworkers and neighbors the many good things happening at LUMC. Invite them to come be a part of our family. Offer your service to help swing wide the doors of LUMC and welcome Leesburg inside!

Get Social. Be a friend of LUMC on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter. Each platform has different purposes, but collectively they have the power to reach people who may not know a lot about our mission. Follow and Like our platforms; share news and inspiration with others. Use them to give people a look at how love is at work in our church family.

Help with our Signature Mission. Roll up your sleeves and cook! Prepare meals for residents of the Loudoun Homeless Services Center. Together we can bring encouragement and greater security and hope to many who are unsure what the future holds for them.

Be and make disciples for Christ. Consider yourself asked! Join a class, volunteer to serve, help with an outreach project, lend your talents and skills to fill a need or jump-start a project.

Lead. Finally, we are looking for new people willing to step up and help lead continuing Next Level Innovations efforts in Hospitality, Outreach, Missional Engagement, and Communications and Technology. Email the church office or contact Reverend Heather or Pastor Jim to learn more.

Teach Your Children Well

The eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month marked the signing of the armistice to end what was then called, “The Great War”, and which would later become known as WW1, in 1918. One year later, President Wilson declared the day Armistice Day, and veterans of the war were remembered and honored.-They marched in hometown parades and were honored with speeches by local and national politicians. In 1938, Armistice Day was voted a national holiday, and then in 1971 the name was changed to Veterans Day, honoring veterans of all wars and those who have served in peacetime.

In every church I have served, I have been privileged to minister among men and women who have served our country in our Armed Services. They taught me to not only appreciate, but also to cherish this day (and Memorial Day) as a way of honoring those who have served and are serving, and to honor their families for the sacrifices they make. Over the years, I have heard about, read, and participated in a variety of ways to observe this holy-day. I commend them to you and your family.

1) Pray

Pause for a moment at 11 am on November 11, Veterans Day (Monday this year) to consider those who have served and silently thank them for their willingness to serve, protect, and uphold our Constitutional freedoms.

2) Hug a vet

It may sound trite to some, but a genuine hug conveys a depth of appreciation and affection. And, for those of us fortunate enough to have a veteran at home or in your family, hug them tightly and thank them for their daily sacrifice and service to our country.

3) Celebrate

Support the businesses that support our military. Many restaurants and stores offer promotions on Veterans Day to military members and their families. Take your vet to lunch or, if you're not military, simply show your support for our troops by patronizing one of the many participating vendors.

4) Connect

Reach out to veterans and their families in our church and community. Remember those who have shared in our struggles, our joys, and our sorrows. Call up a service member and/or spouse and let them know they are in your thoughts and prayers.

5) Honor those we've lost; those who were wounded

We've all been touched by the loss of a friend or loved one in the military. Take the time to honor especially these veterans of war who've fought for our country and who've made the ultimate sacrifice; as well as our "Wounded Warriors". Donate or volunteer your time; for example learn more about Boulder Crest

www.bouldercrestretreat.org

6) Teach

Explain to your children or family members that Veterans Day celebrates all members of the military, those currently serving and those who have served previously, those who have served in times of peace as well as war. This differs from Memorial Day, which is a day to commemorate specifically those who died while serving, especially those who died in combat.

7) Support

Contact our closest Fisher House at Fort Belvoir, BelvoirFisherHouse@gmail.com, the non-profit "home away from home" that provides free lodging to families of military members during hospitalization at major military medical facilities. Get the kids involved and ask if the Fisher House could use any donated goods.-Have your kids select a new toy or other new comfort items to donate. See if they could use some homemade goodies or tabletop decorations, or even fresh flowers to brighten someone's day. Show your children that they're never too little to help others.

8) Learn

Visit one of our national cemeteries (Arlington, Quantico) and ask to place flags at the headstones; or join with helping the Rotary Clubs in their effort to do so.

9) Participate in community observance

Come out for our Leesburg community's Veterans Day commemoration at The Marshall House, 312 E Market Street, at 10:30 AM, Monday, November 11. Make this event a family tradition.

10) Remember all year

We are fortunate to have a day that provides a national platform through which to show our appreciation for our veterans. But a simple "thank you" at any time during the year is a great way to show appreciation for all our military members past and present for the service they provide every day.

Veterans Day is the opportunity to give recognition and honor to all who serve and have served. It is with great appreciation that I pray God's blessing on all of our veterans and their families, not just today, but every day!

Grace and peace, Rev. Jim Wishmyer
